

The state of business email 2025

10 stats every IT pro needs to know

Email is still the backbone of business communication of IT leaders say one-to-one email is important of enterprise employees send 16+ emails a day of IT leaders say more than half of all comms rely on direct email

Email is still a target, and still under-protected

use protocols like DMARC, DKIM, SPF are very confident in their compliance posture

Manual workloads are burning time

Here's how IT time is being spent

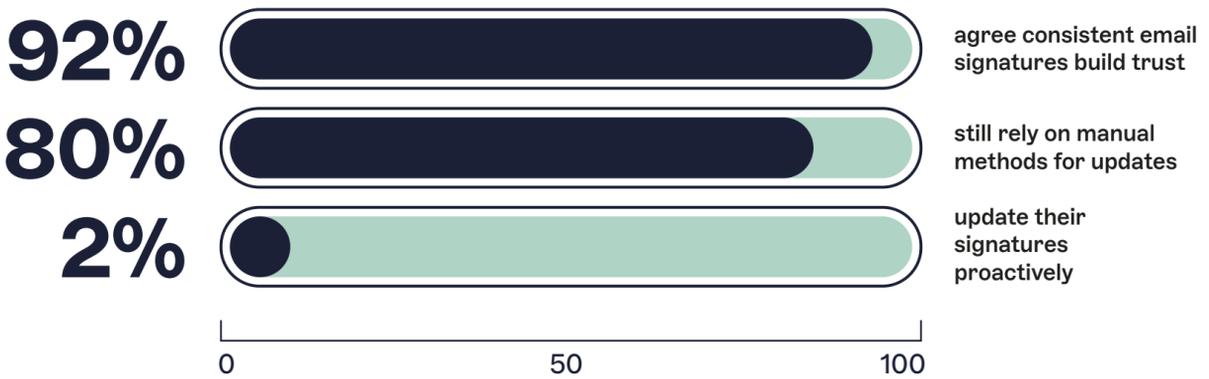

YET ONLY

41% integrate email with security tools

29% automate email workflows

Signatures still aren't under control

The future of email

of IT leaders believe email will remain a primary communication tool through 2030

Over the next 5 years, IT leaders want...

Email still carries the messages that matter. If you're not modernizing it, you're already behind.

